

SUNDAY SPORT: IN HISTORY

How we marked the BIGGEST news events in history. Today, the Roswell Alien.

Sunday Sport

Thought: We've been telling you for years

LONDON, MANCHESTER, SLATTOCKS, No.2,010 SUNDAY, JULY 6, 1947 TWO PENCE

YEEEEESSS! WE'VE FKING GOT ONE!

Real life moon man found in New Mexico

GOTCHA! Your super Sunday Sport has been proved right after a flying saucer crashed and the body of a MOON MAN was found!

The UFO crashed to earth at a farm belonging to William "Masck" Brazel 75 miles northwest of Roswell, New Mexico.

Colonel William Blanchard of the US Army Counterintelligence Corps raced to the scene — fearing the crashed craft was a Commie spyplane.

But when the decorated soldier saw what was inside the mangled remains of the spaceship he yelled: "HOLY FLYING FK — WE GOT ONE!"

Immediately the Army launched a sinister cover-up which ensured the mysterious incident would feed conspiracy, rumour and paranoia for the next 60 years.

Head of the Eighth Air Force, Brigadier General Roger Ramey, told newsmen in Fort Worth, Texas, that "some stuff" had been found at Roswell.

"But it's not very interesting — if you know what I mean" added the general with a wink and a tap of the nose.

Pressed by newsmen on the details of the find the General muttered something about "national security" and "proper protocols" before rushing off and slamming the door behind him.

Later a press release from the Pentagon stated that the crashed craft was "absolutely, absolutely, absolutely, absolutely an old weather balloon.

Promise, promise, promise. Cross my heart and hope to die.

"Now let's have no more talk of space aliens. We've got Commies to worry about. God Bless America!"

Leaked pictures of the alleged alien were dismissed as "medical photographs of a deceased local boy whose mammy and pappy were possibly a bit too closely related."

But the world has refused to accept official explanations, preferring instead to believe the Sunday Sport which since 1908 has presented proof of the existence of UFOs and space aliens.

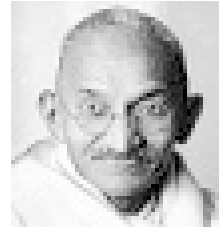

A spokesman for the newspaper last night said: "We're right, the US government are lying.

"Now go away, I'm drunk!"

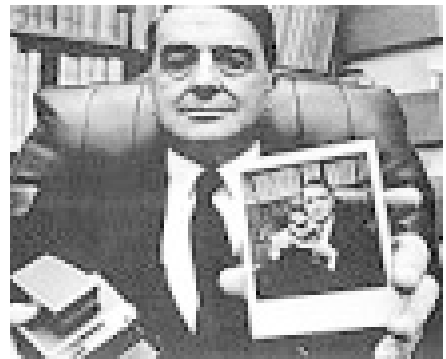

++ END OF BRITISH EMPIRE LATEST ++

GHANDI 'BORED' AFTER INDIA GAINS INDEPENDENCE

Little fella admits: "I've lost my main focus in life and I've started to put on weight"

IN TODAY'S PAPER

EDWIN LAND INVENTS THE POLAROID CAMERA AND TAKES A PICTURE OF HIS OWN WILLY

RENOWNED scientist Edwin H. Land yesterday invented the world's first instant-image camera which produces photographs with no need of conventional development and processing.

Dr Land then proceeded to take a picture of his own willy, which he pinned up close to the watercooler at the headquarters of the Polaroid Corporation in Boston, Massachusetts.

'COMMIES, COMMIES, COMMIES! THEY'RE EVERYWHERE!'

Truman gives shortest State of Union speech ever

PRESIDENT Trueman made the shortest-ever State of the Union speech to Congress in Washington DC last night.

The President took the podium before expectant Congressmen and screeched: "Commies! Commies! Commies! They're everywhere! May the good Lord spare us all!"

The President then ran from the Chamber, his arms aloft, with spittle darting from his mouth.

EUROPE ASKS STATES: LEND US £200,000,000,000,000,000 UNTIL PAY DAY

THE war-ravaged nations of Europe yesterday asked the United States to "lend them a few quid."

"About £200,000,000,000,000,000 should do it," claimed British Prime Minister Clement Atlee.

"We'll give it you back on pay day" promised the bald politician.

WE'VE BEEN TELLING YOU FOR YEARS

